

Environmental policy

CHALET MONTAGNE TRADITION

CATERED CHALET IN LES GETS

Preserving an Exceptional Natural Environment

It is our core belief that it is not possible to design a mountain holiday without worrying about the environmental impacts. This ethos has been with us since the creation of the company, and even before from our childhood in the mountains. Our holidays must be consistent with the preservation of our landscapes and our biodiversity. This environment is not only our main source of income, but also our personal living environment.

Sustainable holidays in Les Gets

Les Gets resort has always been a pioneer with the ISO14001 certification obtained in March 2008.

To follow this approach, we have launched this project involving:

- Our team, who are extremely interested in these issues
- Our guests, who demand these actions
- Our suppliers and other local parties, to be a leader for environmental initiatives

Our Company

Since we first founded the company, improving our production systems and quality of service has been at the heart of the business. This is not only to improve the experience of our customers, but also the workplace experience of our team by creating easy-to-use and effective procedures which are applied throughout.

Continuous improvement is at the heart of our business plan in the areas of productivity, working comfort, human resources, and sustainable development.

Our activities, however, have negative impacts on the environment. We have launched the environmental analysis plan and set ourselves the objectives of ISO 14001. As part of our approach, we now operate an environmental management system every day. This enables us to improve our environmental performance permanently, and to fully implement all legislation in favour of the environment.

Notable, we undertake to:

- Control our consumption of energy, water and raw materials
- Limit discharges, particularly in terms of waste
- Improve the quality of the chalets and reduce their overall footprint in collaboration with their owners
- Reduce food waste in the chalets
- Prioritise local, quality, and seasonal products in the preparation of our meals
- Follow environmental regulations as closely as possible, and quickly implement procedures to correct non-compliance
- Make our suppliers aware of the importance of the environment
- Set up environmental awareness and training plans for our staff
- Communicate about our environmental actions to our customers

Finally, we are committed to using all the means necessary to actively communicate this environmental policy to our teams and our customers. We are committed to regularly communicating environmental policy objectives and action plans. Each of us will thus be able, in the context of our daily activities and the monitoring of our projects, to implement and apply the principles and actions defined in our environmental policy.

Monday, 7th of June 2021,

Raphaël CABUIS, director of SARL Chalet Montagne Tradition